Letter from the PRESIDENT

*"Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God."
- Philippians 4:6*

Dear Friends and Families of Rosati-Kain,

Rosati-Kain has become a symbol of love, strength, tradition, commitment, and faith in our community. I experience this firsthand when I interact with the young women of Rosati-Kain each day. They explain how having a strong academic base gives them an edge, but having a strong sense of knowing who they are in Christ and that they are loved is their real advantage in navigating the everyday challenges of life. They understand the importance of being able to think critically and how, for the most part, their own decisions will determine their future paths. The development during these formative years positions them for a joyful future and it is humbling for me to have a small part in their journey.

Since 1911, Rosati-Kain has shaped and continues to shape so many lives. Our faculty, staff, parents, alumnae, and friends remain committed to helping to maintain the environment that has been part of Rosati-Kain from the beginning. Together, we are living out the mission of Rosati-Kain. Together, we are making a difference.

The passage from Philippians continues to offer me encouragement in my daily life and provides inspiration and strength as I experience life's challenges. While reflecting on this past summer, I can clearly see God's love in so many ways. I cannot individually thank all of you in our R-K community who supported my family and me while my son was taken hostage in Syria in May. Many of you, some whom I have never had the pleasure of meeting, sent me the most loving of messages of prayers and hope when you learned of his release. Know of my sincerest gratitude to each and every one of you. Your outpouring of love is consistent with my experience of Rosati-Kain each day, that is to say, this is a beautiful and holy community that cares for one another.

Looking back, I realize this difficult time served as an intense two months of unmatched professional development and spiritual formation. My greatest learning was about myself, others, and my relationship with God. I now find myself more intentional in my actions, more understanding of others, and at peace surrendering my whole self to God. I am a better wife, mother, friend, and leader because of God's intercession and because of all of you. I am deeply humbled by your love and grateful for your continued support.

Thank you for your continued prayers and thank you for all that you do for our students, now and for generations to come.

In peace and gratitude,

COMING Home

*"Not everyone can do great things, but we can all do small things with great love."
- St. Teresa of Calcutta*

Every year R-K welcomes our alumnae back to the school at our Alumnae Mass & Brunch. This year, we gathered with alumnae from the Class of 1948 up to the Class of 2018! With over 70 years of classes being represented, it was truly inspiring to see the amazing women our R-K students have become.

This particular brunch was extra special for Virginia Schaper '48 because she donated her class ring to the R-K Ring Konnection program. This program connects alumnae with current senior students by presenting the girls with a ring they could not purchase junior year due to financial burdens. It is a special thing to see these alumnae pass down their legacies to our students.

Each year at the Alumnae Mass & Brunch, we present our Charism Award. This honor goes to an R-K alumna who has given back to Rosati-Kain and to the broader community in a significant way. This year's recipient was Leslie McMurtry Givance '84. Leslie found a sense of belonging when she entered Rosati-Kain her freshman year. Here, she found a true home. Leslie has remained connected to the R-K community since her graduation. She is a positive presence at every Rosati-Kain event. Leslie loves to work with our students and to inspire them to volunteer at R-K and in their communities. "It's great to see the way current students react to the traditions of R-K, while at the same time bringing new ones to life. You can really see the love and respect the girls have for the culture of Rosati-Kain, and I hope these young women are excited about the sisterhood that they're now a part of."

In her speech, Leslie quoted St. Teresa of Calcutta, "Not everyone can do great things, but we can all do small things with great love." This quote resonated personally with Leslie, as she regularly volunteers her time and creative talents to her alma mater. Leslie always does what she can for R-K with great love, and our students, faculty, and staff feel the effects of her passion for helping others.

Another inspiring moment of the day came from the Class of 1969 as they announced their new scholarship, the Sr. Joan Andert, SSND '69 President's Scholarship. The women of this class came together over the past two years to raise money for this new endowed scholarship, and to honor their classmate and past R-K President, Sr. Joan Andert, SSND. Sr. Joan worked at Rosati-Kain High School for over 30 years, starting her career as a geometry teacher and retiring from R-K as President Emeritus.

With over 200 women in the room for this year's event, the strength of our sisterhood was palpable. We honored the classes of '39, '44, '49, '54, '59, '64, '69, '74, '79, '84, '89, '94, '99, '04, '09, and '14. Old traditions were brought back this year when the Memorial Table was featured, honoring our R-K sisters from these classes who are no longer with us. Leslie reminded us in her speech of the Class of 1984's Senior Song, Love Grows Here, and it truly does.

The next Alumnae Mass & Brunch will take place on Sunday, April 26, 2020, and we can't wait to see you all there!

LEADING & SERVING THE WORLD

By Sean Ferguson

Lilla Watson, an Indigenous Australian artist and academic, is quoted saying, "If you have come here to help me, you are wasting your time. But if you have come because your liberation is bound up with mine, then let us work together." These lines are the foundation of Rosati-Kain's decision to bring a group of young women to Punta Gorda, Belize in June of 2019. Too often, private schools become known for their privilege and wealth, insulated from the outside world by a lack of shared experiences. Rosati-Kain does not fit this mold. Representing a large variety of socioeconomic statuses, ZIP codes, and backgrounds, Rosati-Kain's existence thrives on providing students with an in-depth view of what lies beyond the corner of Lindell and Newstead. It is only fitting, then, that an immersion trip to Belize breaks the mold as well. We, as Rosati-Kain, went to Belize to witness the Eucharistic community of our fellow global citizens.

This spirit captured the R-K community's ideals as we embarked on our pilot international immersion trip last June. We are proud to report that these ideals were realized in the time spent, relationships cultivated, stories interwoven, and experiences revealed as our days in Belize unfolded. The twelve students embraced each moment of their experience with a posture of openness and engagement.

Catie Nosacka '21 explains it best, "It is important this trip was more of an immersion trip than a service trip. The participants are not in a particular location with the objective of inserting their beliefs. Instead of pushing our notions of societal behavior on them, the immersion experience allows the people of Punta Gorda to organically reveal to us how they live."

Many days of the trip spent painting a parish hall or organizing grade school scholarship packets acted as catalysts for the encounter with various people in St. Peter Claver Parish in Punta Gorda. Our evenings were spent sharing a variety of Belizean meals with parishioners who shared their stories with our students and listened to the students' narratives in turn. Over dinner tables and paint buckets, card games and lagoon waters, the communities of Rosati-Kain and St. Peter Claver Parish have forged a bond that will grow and strengthen for many years to come.

Alumna SPOTLIGHT

Stephanie Arnold '93

When Stephanie Arnold was in eighth grade at St. Michael the Archangel Catholic Grade School in Shrewsbury, her parents made it very clear that she could go to any high school she wanted. After touring several schools in the area, she had a shadow visit at R-K which brought her to Sr. Denis' English class. That was all it took to know R-K was the place for her.

"The education I received at Rosati-Kain changed how I felt about education. When I went to college, my experience at Rosati-Kain set the standard for the discipline required to be successful. It gave me the confidence that is not easy to find in a larger setting or a place with more distractions. Rosati-Kain was hard work. Its rigorous curriculum and the need to apply myself proved to be my foundation to succeed not only in college but beyond." Throughout high school, Stephanie worked for babyGap and in her junior year of college, she was awarded a work-study opportunity there as well. Her dedication and work ethic paid off. After graduating from Saint Louis University in 1997 with a Bachelor's in Marketing, babyGap offered her an opportunity to move to San Francisco and work at the executive side of the business. She worked there for several years before deciding to come home to be closer to her family. Stephanie's experience in branding caught the attention of a family-owned company Todd, Roger, and Greg (TRG), and they quickly picked her up as head of merchandising. They loved the model of branding they had seen at babyGap and the work Stephanie had done there. Eventually, she was in charge of sales of all of North America.

"The education I received at Rosati-Kain changed how I felt about education. When I went to college, my experience at Rosati-Kain set the standard for the discipline required to be successful. It gave me the confidence that is not easy to find in a larger setting or a place with more distractions."

After several years, the family sold the company and that gave Stephanie the opportunity to once again see what was out there. She learned a lot about the business side of a company at TRG and that helped her secure a position at Nature's Variety, a natural pet food company, as head of sales for North America. Her experience in sales and leadership made her the perfect addition to this company. After 10 years, the company sold and Stephanie decided to "semi-retire." Today, Stephanie finds herself volunteering with many non-profits and consulting a few days a week in the areas of talent acquisition and e-commerce. It's giving her the opportunity to test the waters to see what to do in her next chapter of life.

Stephanie is currently serving on the Board of Directors at Rosati-Kain and on the Board of Trustees at the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. She is excited to have found a way to connect these two organizations that she is passionate about. She is now helping run a student leadership campaign. That campaign led her to current Rosati-Kain student Taylor Swanigan '21, whom she has been mentoring. "It has been so fun to see these young people succeed in something they didn't think they could do."

Giving back to Rosati-Kain has always been a fixture in Stephanie's life. When the annual report would come out each year, if her name was not listed in the yearly donations, Stephanie would get an immediate phone call from her sister asking why her name wasn't there. "I have always felt that my money and my time could go exponentially farther in a place like Rosati-Kain. I am passionate about providing young women who have the intellectual potential, but not the financial means the opportunity of a Rosati-Kain education."

Stephanie is really excited about the new Board of Directors at Rosati-Kain with Stephanie Boyd in her new role as Director of Advancement and Financial Affairs and Dr. Elizabeth Ann Goodwin as President. She continues to believe in the school and in its mission. "The groundwork was laid for me at Rosati-Kain to be successful. That same foundation is being implemented today to the next generation of young women to lead and serve the world."

CULTIVATING Talents

*"She believed she could so she did."
- Roald Dahl, "Matilda"*

THE MUNY

This summer, Holland States '20 followed Matilda's advice when she joined the teen ensemble for The Muny's production of Matilda. Not new to the stage, Holland started performing at the Muny when she was just nine years old and this was her ninth show there.

"My time at The Muny has been a great learning experience, in that I have learned to work with all kinds of people. The things that set the Muny apart from other theatres are the high-caliber productions and the short time in which they are put together. The Muny is the oldest and largest outdoor theatre in the country, so everything is done with great detail. There is a large stage to fill and an even bigger audience, 11,000 to be exact, to perform for. At the Muny, rehearsals for one production last about 11 days. That really is a short time to learn, rehearse, and perfect an entire show. This means you must always be organized, energized, and focused."

Holland quickly saw the connection that her experiences at The Muny and her experiences at Rosati-Kain had. "A huge part of performing at The Muny is teamwork. Like at Rosati-Kain, the performers at The Muny come from different places and have different experiences. No matter where we come from and no matter how different we may be, the performers at The Muny come together to create something amazing. Similarly, at Rosati-Kain, the students are from all different walks of life. We come together every day to work as classmates and friends, and we always support each other. I'm glad I have had the opportunity to be a part of two great communities like these."

Perspective ON GRADUATION

Ellen Thompson '19 2019 Class Valedictorian

"Recognize that graduation is more than just a celebration of high school coming to an end. It marks an important milestone on our journeys. It marks the commencement of the next chapters of our lives. Ahead of us stands the rest of our lives, with infinite opportunities, full of new experiences ready for us to live and for our goals to be met. And as Maya Angelou once said, 'There is no greater agony than bearing an untold story inside you,' so go, Rosati-Kain Class of 2019, and live your life to its fullest potential, and make sure to let the whole world know your story."

LEAVING YOUR Legacy

By Marie A. Casey '75

In Matthew 18:22, when Peter asks Jesus how often he must forgive, Jesus tells him, "I do not say to you, up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven." Perhaps Jesus also meant to encourage us to be equally generous in our "for-giving" approach.

Seven seems to be a common number when it comes to motivators for both my planned giving and annual giving to Rosati-Kain. I am one of seven sisters (Meg, Marilyn, Martha, Mary, Monica, Michelle, and myself) who were blessed to attend Rosati-Kain. (Our only brother, Paul, added his "attendance" by starring in R-K plays during those years.) I was directly touched and enriched by fellow students in seven classes: the three preceding mine, my own class of 1975 and the three succeeding classes. In addition, there were far more than seven teachers who greatly influenced my personal, spiritual, and professional development through their talents, intelligence, and dedication. I am deeply grateful to all these participants in my education.

Although I didn't know it at the time, it was a great sacrifice for my parents to send their seven daughters and one son to Catholic elementary and high schools. My mom believes it was one of their best decisions, and I have to agree. The minimal pay given to the many CSJ and SSND sisters of the past who gifted us with their talents kept R-K tuition at a level that is a small fraction of what tuition is today. Having to pay living wages to the exclusively lay teachers has made tuition an even more challenging stretch for today's families.

Generous people are the happiest people I know. It gives me great joy to plan ahead to share the gift of an R-K education to future R-K sisters. I believe our world becomes a better place through R-K's cultivation of the gifts within young R-K women who will go on to lead and serve the world. I trust that today's students will be inspired by gratitude to pass on their gift to the R-K sisters who will follow them.

SPRING CONCERT/FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

May 1 and 2, 2020

Spring is in the air at R-K as you sit back and relax to a variety of songs performed by the R-K Instrumental and Choral groups. Make sure to stop by the Fine Arts Festival in the Daniels Learning Commons. We will also be hosting our Spring Happy Hour before the Friday night performances from 5 pm - 7 pm. Don't miss the fun!
